Aspen Corporate Health acquires WA-based corporate health specialist as part of growth strategy

Canberra-based Aspen Corporate Health, a subsidiary of Aspen Medical, has acquired Health On The Move, a leading corporate health specialist based in Perth, WA.

Founded in 1996, Health On The Move delivers onsite and clinic based health assessments, skin cancer screenings, vaccinations in addition to injury prevention services such as manual handling training, and ergonomic assessments. The company retains clients from the government, transport, mining and construction sectors in WA and NSW.

According to Glenn Keys, Managing Director of Aspen Medical, "This acquisition will further improve our corporate health service delivery to national clients such as the Australian Federal Police, Department of Human Services and the Defence Materiel Organisation. A strong brand presence in WA and an established foothold in NSW, combined with a reputation for superior service and quality, made Health On The Move a great fit for us.

"We welcome Amanda Mundy and her team to the Aspen Medical Group and look forward to working with Health On The Move to deliver best-in-class corporate health across the country."

Amanda Mundy, CEO of Health On The Move, said "We're very excited to be a part of the continuing Aspen Medical success story. We look forward to working closely with the Aspen Corporate Health team to integrate our businesses with theirs and to providing the public and private sectors with an enhanced service offering."

Aspen Corporate Health is based in Deakin, Canberra, and provides a range of corporate healthcare services including injury management, health and wellbeing programs, vaccinations, travel medicine, pre-employment medicals, alcohol and drug testing and executive health checks.
